Wg Cdr Rahul Monga and Wg Cdr Anil Kumar landed in Danang (in Vietnam) at noon

The pilot duo of Wg Cdr Rahul Monga and Wg Cdr Anil Kumar covered a distance of 850 km to land in Vietnam at noon IST. The pilots had left Bangkok on Tuesday morning.

The expedition is now once again moving as per schedule. It had received a slight bump the previous day when it couldn't reach Bangkok as planned due to bad weather on their way from Yangon.

As a result, it winged into the Thai capital on Monday, robbing it of a day's rest that was originally planned in Bangkok.

On Wednesday, the expedition will enter China and rest at Haikou.

The expedition was flagged off on June 1 from the Hindon air base near Delhi and is planning to cover a distance of approximately 41, 000 km in 64 days.
